Discount loss hikes cable bills

By JIM RINK
ANP Staff Writer

Officials from the city of Romulus are still waiting for a reply from Omnicom Cablevision regarding what amounts to a rate increase for senior citizens.

In October 1987, officials of Barden Cable appeared before the Romulus City Council with a proposal to amend the cable ordinance in order to transfer the Romulus franchise to Omnicom.

At the time of the meeting, Omnicom officials indicated rates would not increase as a result of the transfer.

Prior to the Omnicom acquisition of the Romulus cable system, senior citizens were given a 15 percent discount on the total bill. Following the Omnicom takeover, the discount was reduced to 10 percent, applicable only to the basic cable package.

"Yes, it's bad," said Madora Bryant, a Romulus senior and cable subscriber. "On a fixed income it's kind of tough. I'll probably have to cut back when winter comes. In winter you have the gas bill, light bill, they're really high. You have to cut back somehow. Barden had the discount at 15 percent. Omnicom said it would stay the same."

According to city clerk Linda Choate, two months ago, she sent a letter to Omnicom asking for an explanation, but has received no reply. The original language of the Barden contract with the Cable TV Commission called for a 10 percent discount on the basic package for senior citizens, said Choate. After negotiating the contract, Barden increased the discount to 15 percent on the total bill.

"When Omnicom came to the council for the transfer, they indicated there would be no changes whatsoever," said Choate. "I've talked to various seniors. They're on a fixed income, so it's a price increase for them. As soon as Omnicom came in, their bills went up."

The issue is currently in the hands of the Cable TV Commission, which is attempting to contact Omnicom management to discuss the problem.

Factory fire fought

A Saturday evening fire at the Kelsey Hayes Co. on Huron River Drive in Romulus kept firefighters busy, according to Fire Chief William Greenslaid.

The fire department was at the scene for three hours, Greenslaid said, because of "the nature of the roof structure" they had to watch for smoldering underneath the insulated panels.

The fire started in the plant and spread to the roof, he said. Bob Burton of Kelsey-Hayes said it was a small smoldering on the roof involving a paint oven, but it was not serious and no one was hurt.

The fire started about 6 p.m., Burton said, and the department had the fire out in about 30-45 minutes. There was a great deal of smoke, he said, and the department stayed to make sure the fire was out.

He has no cost estimate of the damage, he said, but it is not interfering with work at the plant.

Adolescent health advisors seek grant

By KIM KOESTER
ANP Special Writer

Romulus Adolescent Health Advisory Commission members have asked the Michigan Department of Public Health for a grant for a second year to study the health of Romulus teens and decide the best course for meeting the needs of the community, said Kathleen Conway, the project director.

Meanwhile, Conway is trying to organize small parent get-togethers to make contact and explain the committee and its goals and allay fears and misconceptions, she said.

Presentations have been made to eight or nine community groups, Conway said, and she hopes to have more made this summer to other groups in the area.

Also, this week she will meet with area clergy, who have already taken an interest in the survey, she said, and try to help them organize into a sort of "subcommittee" which can function independently and decide what role to play.

The original concept of the health department, Conway said, was to give grants of a year and then have the community decide what was needed, but for many communities one year has not been enough. She is hopeful that the advisory will receive an additional grant, and if not, the advisory will have sit down and decide where to go at the next meeting, at the end of August, she said.

Other communities around the state are also interested in the program and are applying for funds, too, she said.

When asked directly, 91 percent of parents supported the establishment of a health center and students were also in favor of it. Three to 4 percent response was expected. Instead 27 percent of parents responded to the surveys.

— Kathleen Conway
Project director

The current funds continue until September, but the proposal to the health department was due at the beginning of July, she said, and she doesn't expect to hear the results until the end of July.

Conway stressed that advisory members have not chosen which path is best for Romulus. Although the needs of the students, parents, and staff identified were "very similar," the project needs wide-based support from the whole community, she said.

At the beginning of June a public forum was scheduled, she said, to help the community understand, but everyone has not agreed on how to address the teens' health needs, she said.

The small "coffee klatches" Conway is proposing, she said, will help make contact with people on a personal basis and help explain the program, dealing with confusion and questions that arose after the public forum. Eighty-five parents signed forms agreeing to help the committee, she said, and they will be contacted about hosting a meeting at home for five to six people.

The meetings of the committee are public, she said, as required by the health department. Many people are regulars at the meetings, she said, and others come to get questions answered.

The program must be designed with the community in mind, Conway stressed, because it will not work if it is not what the community wants.

In addition, other communities with the program have "required signed parent consent to use" a health program, she said, and she expects the Romulus committee to do the same.

One major misconception, she said, is that a Teen Health Center will be set up in Romulus. That is merely one of many options.

Besides funding a health center, the health department will also fund an "alternative delivery system" for communities that do not want or need a health center, Conway said.

If the community has resources in the community, a referral service, possibly through the school nurse, may be what is needed, and possibly transportation provided, she said. Also, a better coordination between community resources for the teens may be needed.

When asked directly, 91 percent of parents supported the establishment of a health center, however, she said, and students were also in favor of it. Three to 4 percent response expected, she said, and instead 27 percent of parents responded to the surveys, which was a "very good return," Conway said.

There is a growing interest from ministers in the area, she said, and three, a Catholic, a Methodist, and a Wesleyan, are on the advisory committee, she said.

League aids youth

By KIM KOESTER
ANP Special Writer

The Romulus Civic League was founded in 1946 to "create peace and harmony in the neighborhood," said Willie Hester, the present president of the league. Today, the league is focusing on helping the youth of Romulus and is in need of more members and volunteers.

The group began when people of the community joined together to purchase a field where area residents played baseball and to build a community building there.

In addition, a network of community leaders and clergy helped the youth of the area. The mostly black area did not have many recreational facilities for youngsters at the time, Hester said.

The group was successful, but spent many years building, with the center at 1149 W. Main being finished in 1967-68 and dedicated in 1970.

The league and its activities are funded entirely through donations and volunteers, Hester said.

New faces: Appointments announced at Associated

The appointment of four managers has been announced by David J. Willett, publisher of Associated Newspapers. Willett named Lester Bryant Jr. as the circulation manager of the six Associated Newspaper publications, which include the Wayne Eagle, Westland Eagle, Canton Eagle, Romulus Roman, The Belleville Enterprise and the Inkster Ledger-Star.

Lester Bryant

Bryant, 42, will be responsible for carrier, coin box, store-stop and direct-mail circulation of the six community newspapers, according to Willett. A Detroit resident, Bryant served in the U.S. Marine Corps for three years and studied business administration at Tennessee State University in Nashville. He had been a district circulation manager at

The Detroit News before his appointment to the Associated Newspapers post.

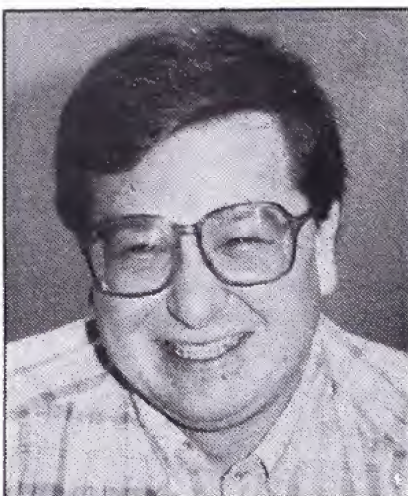

Karen Love

Karen Love, a 12-year veteran of the newspaper business, has joined the Associated Newspapers as special section advertising manager. Love, 42, spent 10 years with the Chicago Tribune retail advertising staff and two years with the Los Angeles Times before accepting her current assignment. She specialized in recruitment advertising at the Tribune as its west coast representative. In 1981, Love was named "Black Achiever of the Year" by the Tribune for community service projects she completed.

An Ecorse resident, Love studied marketing at Wayne State University and Los Angeles City College and has coordinated advertising seminars in 11 states.

Willett also announced the appointment of a production manager and assistant production manager for Eagle Graphics, an Associated Newspaper affiliate.

Dale Lee

Dale Lee, 29, has joined Eagle Graphics Corp. as production manager. He had been general manager of Avanti & Co., a news service for community newspapers.

Lee brings more than 11 years of managerial experience to Eagle Graphics. He is a former general manager of Football News and Basketball Weekly magazines and has worked for Psychology Today, the Free Press, Detroit Legal News, Oakland Press, Royal

Ivanka Sajkovic

Oak Tribune and Adrian Daily Telegram as well as several weekly newspapers in southeast Michigan.

Lee, an arbitrator for the Better Business Bureau and a member of several community boards, has a bachelor of arts degree in journalism from Wayne State University.

Ivanka Sajkovic, 22, has been promoted from keyliner to assistant production manager of Eagle Graphics Corp.

Sajkovic, who holds a bachelor's degree in advertising with a business minor from the University of Detroit, previously was a keyliner for Detroit-based Renaissance Printing Inc.

In college, Sajkovic interned at Ford Motor Co. as a photographer and graphic artist and was a reporter for the Varsity News, the campus newspaper. In his announcement, Willett said he is pleased to have four individuals with high levels of talent, skill and leadership qualities joining the Associated Newspapers publications.

WINNERS CIRCLE
BY LAURIE KIPP

Introduced in 1975, instant games are now the oldest in the Michigan Lottery line-up. They have offered a variety of formats and prize structures through the years. The following addresses current instant games.

Q: What's the newest instant game?
A: Tickets for the "Triple Header" scratch-off game went on sale July 19.

Q: How do you play?
A: Simply purchase a $1 ticket at any of the nearly 8,000 Michigan Lottery retailers in the state. The ticket offers three different chances to win as you compare your team's score with its opponent's. If yours is higher, scratching off another area reveals your prize.

Q: What can you win?
A: To satisfy player preference for more prizes, "Triple Headers" top prize is $100—and there are 20,000, or $2 million worth, of such prizes in the game. Other prizes range from "Free Tickets" to $10. In all, the game offers players prizes worth more than $14 million.

Q: What are the odds of winning?
A: This game continues the popular prize structure where fifty-five cents of every dollar expected to be wagered has been put in the prize pool. Consequently, the odds of winning some kind of prize are about one in three!

Q: How do you go about collecting an instant game prize?
A: All winning tickets in "Triple Header" can be redeemed at any Lottery retailer for immediate prize payment.

Q: How long will this game remain on sale?
A: Beginning with the previous game, "Spin to Win," the Lottery's instant games will remain on sale at most retailers for up to one year or until they are sold out. This means there will be some overlap in the games, providing variety to players.

Q: You mean you can currently purchase "Spin To Win" or "Triple Header" tickets from Lottery agents?
A: Yes. Simply tell your retailer your game choice.

Q: Do proceeds from instant games aid schools?
A: As with all Lottery games, net revenues from instant games are earmarked for the state School Aid Fund to help support K-12 education. The Lottery contribution to the Fund has exceeded $400 million in each of the past two fiscal years. This is the equivalent of about $250 per household that otherwise might have had to come from taxes.

Kids 'can do'

Tools teach life skills to Romulus youngsters

By JIM RINK
ANP Staff Writer

For Jacque Martin Downs of the Romulus Help Center, the solutions to life's problems are a lot like a tool box.

She is a substance abuse counselor and a participant in Prevention Project '88, sponsored by the Mayor's Task Force on Drug Abuse. As part of the project, Martin Downs has been going to various community centers and church groups to talk about substance abuse prevention to kids age five to 14.

"For my part, I talk to the kids about self-esteem and their opinions of themselves. I use visual metaphors like the tool box (a real tool box with real tools inside) - I show them that the right tools can help them solve their problems.

Martin Downs also uses a garbage can to show kids how feelings can get stuffed in the garbage instead of shared with someone important.

By using skits and videos dealing with prevention, counselors can give young people a badly-needed resource. According to Martin Downs, "a lot of these kids don't see a way out - a lot feel they deserve to be hit."

Response to Prevention Project '88 so far has been "excellent." At the end of a presentation, many participants will come to her for further information. The Romulus Help Center provides information and resources for dealing with family problems associated with substance abuse. For information on programs or resources, call 942-7585.

"The number one reason people become involved with substance abuse is lack of self-esteem, depression," she said.

"Soon they are obsessed by the drugs and wreck everybody's lives around them. I'm trying to give them solutions, tools for their tool box to help them reach solutions."

Area businessman leaves mark

By JOAN MARY DYER
Belleville City Editor

On the Fourth of July, a Belleville businessman who supplied boats, bait and batteries to area residents for some 60 years, died.

Roy H. Doane and his business on Belleville Lake have been well known to residents of Romulus, Belleville and the surrounding area since he opened his first business in the city in the 1920s.

Mr. Doane, owner/operator of Doane's Battery and Marine, was a descendant of a Mayflower settler and of early Michigan pioneers. He was born and raised in South Lyon and married Belleville resident, Mae Bunyea, in 1924. Soon after his marriage he relocated in Belleville and began a series of business ventures.

The Doanes celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary in 1984 with good wishes from politicians, film stars and other celebrities across the nation. Among those who sent their good wishes was Gene Autry, who met the couple during World War II when he was stationed in Romulus.

His son, Robert (Bob) Doane, who describes himself as an unofficial historian, said his father began a dairy business in South Lyon during which time "he washed 1,000 milk bottles each day by hand."

Mr. Doane, who was the oldest continuous businessman in Belleville, opened his first venture in that city on April 1, 1927.

"He started across the road where Hayward's is today and remodeled a windowless barn. Next, he moved across the street to where the Lakeview Tavern is now located and set up a gas station, bait shop and row boats," Bob said. "Then he moved here (to his present location) into a building he bought from Detroit Creamery, and has been here ever since."

Bob recalled that there were no other boats on Belleville Lake when his father started his boat livery. In the late 1930s and 1940s Mr. Doane gave speed boat rides on the lake, and one of his famous passengers was said to be country singer and actor Gene Autry.

Autry was stationed in the area during World War II and frequently visited Belleville. At one time, Bob recalled, Autry was eating at a local restaurant and began singing along with one of his records as it was played on the juke box - much to the amazement of restaurant patrons.

Autry wrote a letter to the Doane's congratulating them on their 60th anniversary, saying "I remember your area very well since I was stationed at Romulus Air Force Base during World War II."

"Dad was a self-taught man - really an amazing man. He started making batteries for cars, airplanes and heavy equipment along with running his boat livery and bait shop. In fact, he made his first battery in mom's oven," Bob said. "He made row bots and inboards, and also repaired and refinished them."

Mr. Doane also helped to dig the basement for the high school in 1926 and also one for the old Township Hall in 1935 or 1936, according to Bob Doane.

"Along with everything else, he gave dances here from the late '40s through the '60s with modern and oldtime music. We had the number one square dance caller here and at one time Gov. (G. Mennen) Williams was supposed to call a dance, but something happened and he couldn't make it," Bob said. "People around here also remember Kenny Rogers playing here before he became famous. I had my own band at the time and I recall talking to him."

Ray Doane, 1927

Bob remembered the restaurant business his father established at the time when hot dogs and double dip ice cream cones sold for a nickel each.

"My best memories are of how my dad was always helping people. Sometimes people came to him who needed a battery but didn't have any money, and he gave them one anyway. He always helped everyone he could," Bob said.

The Doane family can trace its history back to one of the barons who forced King John of England to sign the Magna Carta. They are descendants of William Bradford, making them members of the national and Michigan Society of Mayflower Descendants.

Ray Doane, 1984

One of his proudest honors for Mr. Doane was being named as one of America's Finest Motorists in a nationwide search by Amoco Motor Club in 1986. Mr. Doane was interviewed on the ramp overlooking Belleville Lake for a documentary film on automobile safety after the sponsoring company learned that he had not had a moving violation since he applied for a Michigan operator's license in 1919.

In addition to his wife, Mae, and son, Robert, Mr. Doane is survived by sons, Earl of Romulus, Roy of South Lyon, William of Belleville and Rex of Belleville; daughters, Mary Bullock of Westland, Viola Streight of South Lyon, 26 grandchildren and 25 great grandchildren.

A memorial service has been scheduled for Mr. Doane on Nov. 12 - Mayflower Compact Day - on Nov. 12 by the Society of Mayflower Descendants.

ROMULUS NEWS DIGEST

No water problem in Romulus

Romulus is not rationing water, which it purchases from Detroit, said Willy Hester, dispatcher with the Department of Public Works for Romulus.

There have been "no complaints," he said, and "no overall problem," except for general maintenance problems, like brown lawns, caused by the drought, he said.

Although Romulus is "fair in general," he said, "with everyone else we hope it rains."

Vacation Bible School offered

Victory Village, a summer vacation Bible school program is being offered at the Community United Methodist Church at 11160 Olive, at the corner of Olive and Bibbins in Romulus.

The program, running from July 25 through July 29, is free. Sessions are from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. with a class for ages 2-17.

Supervised crafts, singing, creative Bible discovery sessions, prizes, games and recreation will be offered. Thursday at p.m. the families are invited to attend a special program highlighting the week's activities, and will feature a special magic program performed by J.D. Landis, minister.

Everyone is invited, and to enroll contact J.D. Landis at the church office, 941-0736.

ter said. Besides contributions, fundraising dinners are held and the hall is rented out for dinners to raise funds, he said.

In conjunction with the Romulus Recreation Department, the league puts on a summer recreation program, including arts and crafts during the day and weekly trips. Arts and crafts for young people and sewing classes for seniors have been at the center in the past, Hester said.

The group has a membership open to any Romulus resident, he said, and is "in dire need of volunteers and members." The group can function and put on programs for the city youth only through volunteers, he said.

The Civic League meets each first and third Thursday of the month at 8 p.m. at the hall.

"Volunteers are scarce now, and the group wishes to provide activities for the youths to 'entertain them and give them something to do," Hester said, especially since "times today are very rough on kids."

There is a basketball court at the center that is used nightly by the children of the area, and thanks to the recreation department there are swings and playground equipment for them at the center.

There is also a lunch program offered through the public health service with recreation so the kids can have lunch, he said.

Bowhunter clinic offered by city

The Romulus Recreation Department and the International Bowhunter Education Program will present a comprehensive course for bowhunters, including kids and adults of all ages, on Saturday Aug. 6 and again Saturday Aug. 27.

The sessions last from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. and cost $1 for the one-day session. Preregistration is required, and can be arranged by phoning 942-6852 or Tony Smith at 981-9116.

Schools have new insurance

Joel Carr, assistant superintendent for finance and operations, has been chosen as chairman of a Joint Risk Management Trust for nine school districts that belong to the Metropolitan Association to Improve School Legislation, a lobbying group.

Along with Romulus, Taylor, Wayne, Westland, Dearborn, Inkster, Northville, Redford, Garden City and Livonia are members. The property and cause insurance is a "substantial savings" for Romulus, he said, with the district saving from 30-50 percent "from last year."

The plan, calling for self-insurance of $250,000 and reinsurance above that, was put together by A.J. Gallagher of Chicago, he said. The legal entity was proposed by MAISL to help the school districts.

Kalichs mark 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kalich of Romulus celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on July 9 with a party for family members and friends hosted by their daughter, Ruth Ann Westnick, and her husband, Francis.

Seventy-five people attended the event, including her brother, Harold Roy; his brothers, Leonard, James and George Kalich, and his sister, Ann Willis.

The Kalichs have resided in Romulus for 20 years.

Jail millage approval will push building plans ahead

By JOAN MARY DYER
Belleville City Editor

If voters approve the 1 mill tax for the construction and operation of additional jail facilities, Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara plans to launch the building effort in early 1989.

"We need relief yesterday," McNamara said, noting that the target date to open the new facility has been set for the spring of 1991.

McNamara said that several sites are under consideration, but no decision on the location of the new facility has been made. He indicated that plans are for the construction "of a building not higher than two stories" and will be completed on schedule "if construction is aggressively" managed.

The county executive said the plans for the new facility "will not be labor-intensive" as is the present jail facility. McNamara acknowledged that the design of the jail built in 1984 has made it expensive to operate due to the manpower required to maintain and patrol the facility.

"We are going to do better," McNamara said. "At that time (1984) there was no county executive with the responsibility of balancing the budget. We have to present a balanced budget and live with it."

McNamara also has proposed a Department of Corrections to administer the jail instead of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department. The county executive believes that a "professional department of corrections will improve operations for the same reason the transfer of the Road Commission and Drain Commissioners functions to the County Executive Office improved efficiency - central accountability."

The 1 mill proposal, which will be on the Aug. 2 primary ballot, is expected to raise $20.5 million in 1989, with the same mill expected to bring in approximately 5 percent more each of the next four years due to the increases in property value.

Judge Richard C. Kaufman, chief judge of the Circuit Court, said that some 4,500 prisoners have been released from the county jail in the past two and one-half years due to lack of space.

"The jail has been closed to misdemeanants since September 1986," Kaufman said, adding that he has been faced with the task of deciding which prisoners will be released due to the jail overcrowding.

Kaufman said the first prisoners to be released are pre-trial misdemeanants, next are convicted misdemeanants and then pre-trial prisoners accused of property crimes such as car theft. As space becomes less available, Kaufman said, the criteria has been expanded to include most categories except for those charged with violent crimes.

"There is no urban county that has to release who we have to release," Kaufman said. "It is at an unacceptable level."

Kaufman said he is also working to reduce the long felony docket. It is estimated that it takes 150 days to process a prisoner through the county court system - a figure that Kaufman hopes to reduce to 90 days. Recently the county hired former Recorder's Court Judge Samuel Gardner as a consultant to aid in shortening the length of time inmates spend awaiting trial.

Sentencing judges also have helped to reduce the overcrowding by giving appropriate terms in the state prisons rather than sentencing prisoners to the county jail.

In addition, the Alternative

Work Force Program was begun in early 1987 to place sentenced misdemeanants on work details rather than to be given jail terms. More than 200 convicted misdemeanants are assigned to the Work Force Program each month, according to the judge.

Electronic filing: Tax system to cut filing costs

By THOMAS M. VARCIE
ANP Staff Writer

An easier method of completing federal income tax forms will be initiated in Michigan during the 1989 filing season—electronic filing.

The new method, which piloted in Cincinnati, Ohio, during the 1986 tax season, will come to Michigan in 1989 bringing a more effective and efficient way of filing the taxes, said Mary Tomala, electronic filing coordinator of the Internal Revenue Service of Michigan. Michigan is now the 36th state in the United States that will accept electronically filed income tax returns.

The new method enables a taxpayer's income tax return to be completed via computer and transmitted over normal telephone lines to an IRS processing center. This method eliminates the need to file a tax return on a paper form. The income tax filing method can be completed individually or by professional tax preparers, the largest being H and R Block, said Tomala.

Although the IRS does not charge a fee for completing the tax returns, Tomala said, professional tax preparers may charge a fee.

H and R Block is expected to charge a fee for completing the returns, said a spokesperson for the company. Fees are expected to be named sometime this fall, they said.

Tomala said the electronic filing method is a way for the taxpayer, tax preparer and the government to all benefit.

The new system is expected to save the federal government $200 million over the next 10 years.

Filing through the paper form, federal income tax refunds arrive back after about six weeks. Through the electronic method, Tomala said, refunds will be back in about three weeks.

Electronic filing will not be limited to selected forms, Tomala said. The method will be available to anybody with any filing form.

The number of electronic returns increased dramatically this past tax season as 583,462 returns were done electronically. That was an increase of five times the number done in 1986 and 1987. In 1989, more than four million returns are expected to be filed electronically.

In Michigan, people are already getting ready for the new method of returns, Tomala said.

But, Tomala said the electronic filing return method won't cease at Michigan. By 1990, all 50 states are expected to have the new system.

Health care plans slated

An indigent health care program, slated to go into effect on Oct. 1, could save Wayne County $17 million annually, according to Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara.

McNamara announced the awarding of four contracts for the Wayne County indigent health care program at a total cost of $47.1 million annually — $3.5 million below the projected amount.

The four health care providers and the approximate number of general assistance recipients assigned to each are:

United American Health Care Corp., 15,000; Health Source, Inc., 14,000; Michigan Health Care Corp., 14,000, and Southwest Detroit Hospital, 11,000.

Each Wayne County resident on general assistance will be assigned to one of the four providers who will be responsible for providing preventive and outpatient care in clinics and doctors' offices as well as acute inpatient care. Each eligible person will receive a health care card.

Tax transfer plan could solve crisis

Faced with drastic cuts in curriculum and services, the Romulus Community School District has proposed a method to add $1,530,000 to its general fund without raising taxes.

The district proposes to transfer the sum from its overfunded debt retirement fund, which can only be used to pay long-term debt on bond issues, to the general fund where it can be utilized for school supplies, salaries and the day-to-day expenses of operating the district.

According to school officials, past school boards overlevied the debt fund each year to create a reserve. Romulus, which has a growing tax base that is more than 70 percent commercial/industrial, consequently, has no need to increase its debt reserves while the state equalized valuations are increasing and the debt needs are decreasing, they said.

Presently, there is a $1.6 million surplus in the debt fund with payments on the 1984 debt dropping to $38,000 in 1990 and $21,800 in 1991. The school board proposal calls for the transfer of 4.5 mills from the debt levy to the general fund for one year (1988-89) and 2 mills from the debt fund to be transferred beginning in 1989-90 to the general fund. These transfers are represented in Proposals A and B on the Aug. 2 ballot.

The idea appears to be a good one, but the fund transfer cannot be done by a bookkeeping entry. Even though the transfer, in effect, places the money from one account into another, it must be approved by a vote of the people.

Herein lies the problem, according to school officials. The same plan has been placed before the voters on two separate ballots and has been turned down both times. Responsibility for the defeat of the plan has been placed on a negative bloc of voters who turn out in each election to cast their "no" votes on any millage-related proposal, according to the superintendent of schools. There is little optimism that this attitude will change, and school officials are already planning to place the same request on the general election ballot if it is not successful on the primary ballot.

We believe the proposal makes sense - dollars and cents - for the residents of the Romulus School District. The transfer plan would bring $1.5 million needed dollars into the school district and avoid painful cutbacks in curriculum and services while not jeopardizing the integrity of the debt fund.

We support the millage transfer and challenge the voters to either cast their ballots in favor of Proposals A and B, or come up with a more effective plan - one which also will not add to the taxpayers' burden.

Casting ballot is primary importance

Traditionally there have been low voter turnouts for the primary elections. Many voters seem to shrug off the primary as an unimportant preview of the "real thing" - the November general election. Other well-meaning individuals simply forget to cast their ballots in the primary because they are caught up in summertime activities, vacation plans and pre-semester school preparations.

However, the Aug. 2 primary will be extremely important in some of our communities because a number of candidates face no opposition in the general election. In those instances, the primary winners will virtually be assured victory in the general election. Individuals who do not cast their ballots in the primary in those communities will have forfeited their opportunity to choose their leaders for the next term of office.

Even in those communities where the primary will serve as a narrowing of the field, voters need to make themselves aware of the issues and the candidates and cast their ballots. By neglecting to do this, the absent voter will, in effect, be leaving the decision-making in the hands of what is likely to be a small minority of the registered voters.

The primary election is seen by some as the more important of the two elections. They contend that if the most qualified candidates are selected from among the many hopefuls during the primary election, the choice in November will be an easy one - the selection of one qualified individual over another regardless of party.

Although we are hesitant to call the primary race more important than the general election, we do agree that it should be the arena where the most qualified individuals are chosen to run the race in November.

Become informed on the issues, check out the slate of candidates and then exercise your right to vote for the candidates of your choice on Aug. 2.

Non-voters stir wrath of writer

To the Editor:

We go to the polls on an election day, and, in cases some of you don't know what that is - it is when you are supposed to exercise the most precious right you have in this country - the right to vote.

Those who do vote, which are very few, may vote blindly. Some, and it astonishes me, vote with a certain amount of intelligence which is evident in the results of some of the elections. Other people vote out of pride for their country and strong democratic convictions and, yes, others vote through the process called guessing - "that name sound familiar" or "that name sounds like a winner" or better yet "I'll try this one out." How about the hunt and peck method? The list is too long so its eenie, meenie, meinie, mo. What a way to go, America! But I have always given credit where credit is due. You did vote and that counts for something.

Remember America you get the kind of government you want.

I get ticked off at the clown who continues to complain with everything that's wrong with this country, but somehow can't find the road to the polls. I really get a thrill out of you who say, "why vote, that person is going to win anyway." How about, "all elections are rigged, they don't need my vote?"

You want to know why things seem to be going wrong all the time - why taxes go up and social programs disappear just when we need them the most? It is because we - yes, we - can't exercise our precious liberties. For every vote not cast is a vote against a productive American society. For every vote not cast is a vote for a candidate that can't walk and chew gum at the same time. For every vote not cast is a vote that threatens the continuance of our liberties and freedoms as established by our forefathers. For every vote not cast is a vote to erode our American democratic society as we know it today. For every vote not cast is a vote for a blatantly ignorant America floundering in the backwash of a lazy electorate.

Canton schools thank contributors

To the Editor:

On behalf of all the students, staff, school administration,

Letters

We would like to thank all the school and community organizations that contributed to our scholarship fund for the Summer Tutorial Program sponsored by Plymouth-Canton Community Education. This five-week program provides children in grades kindergarten through eighth grade with small group instruction in reading, writing and math.

In the past many children were unable to participate because their parents could not afford the cost of this excellent program. However, thanks to contributions from West Middle School PTO, Bird Elementary PTO, Field Elementary PTO, Special Education Parents Group, the Educational Excellence Foundation/Plymouth-Canton Schools, Canton Rotary and Plymouth Optimist Club we have been able to raise $1,350 and give 24 children a total of 34 classes free of charge.

This kind of response to the needs of all our children makes us very proud of our community and school-sponsored organizations. Our sincere thanks for your support.

Festival was special event

To the editor:

Again this year, the Strawberry Festival was a wonderful family event.

We enjoyed the entertainment, the exhibits and, of course, the wonderful strawberries. We're sure it took a lot of hard work by a lot of people to make it such a success, and we thank all of them.

Keep up the good work, Belleville. We're looking forward to attending in 1989.

R. Lewis,
a festival fan

Smart golfers signing up early

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

The saying, 'a word to the wise is sufficient', should be noted by golfers who plan to play in the 1988 Associated Newspapers-Parks and Recreation City Championship Golf Invitational.

Smart golfers are registering early so that they won't be shut out of the summer classic.

The tournament, in its 29th year, will be played Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 6-7 at Fellows Creek Golf Course in Canton Township.

There is a 5 p.m. Friday, July 29 deadline to submit the entry blank and $37 greens fee.

"We can handle about 100 golfers for this tournament because of the time and golf course constraints," noted Bill Hawley, tournament manager. "And everything has worked out pretty well in the past and I believe that's one of the reasons why we get so many golfers to return to this tournament year-after-year."

Everything has worked out pretty well in the past. That's why we get so many (golfers) returning to this tournament.

The tournament is open to golfers residing in the cities of Inkster, Romulus, Wayne, Westland, Garden City and Canton Township. Golfers will play 18 holes the first day (Aug. 6) and return the following day for a second 18 to decide the championship.

The countdown has begun for the 29th annual Associated Newspapers-Parks and Recreation city championship golf tournament, and local golfers have only nine more days to register. The tournament will be played Aug. 6-7 at Fellows Creek.

Separate city (township) championships will be staged simultaneously for amateur male golfers for all participating communities. Additional flight competitions will be conducted if the total entry from a city (or township) warrants it.

Trophies will be awarded to the first, second and third place finishers in each flight, and an additional trophy will be awarded to the individual low scorer (medalist) of the entire field.

Wayne golfers will also be competing for the Leonard Anderson Memorial Trophy. The trophy honors Patrolman Anderson, the first Wayne police officer killed in the line of duty.

The low five scorers from each city (township) in the championship flight are also eligible to play on their city team in the state recreation golf tournament scheduled for later this year. All other golfers will become alternates in order of their finish.

To enter, golfers should complete the entry form accompanying this story. Mail (or drop it off) it and the $37 registration fee, to Associated Newspapers, golf tournament, 35540 Michigan Ave. Make checks (or money orders) payable to Bill Hawley, tournament manager.

Tee off times will be published in all editions of the Associated Newspapers the

3 teams chase Romulus title

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Three teams continue to share the spotlight in the Romulus men's Monday/Wednesday softball league.

And, after 16 games, it's still a toss up which of the three will walk away with the championship. Will it be Document Services, a 13-3 on-the-season club; or Davis Autobody, a team that has matched Document Services' record? Or, will it be Poly Pro Auto Wash, which is one victory away from creating a three-way deadlock on the top of the standings?

That deadlock should be broken this week as the leaders jockey for the final stretch.

In the meantime, the race for the women's division softball title is going right down to the wire as Brendco Oil and Toni's Nite continue their duel.

Brendco has a slim edge as the frontrunner has won 11 of its 13 games as compared to Toni's 11-3 record. The two have a date later in the season to determine which will wear the coveted Romulus crown.

But in the men's Blue Division, undefeated Chrysler Softball Club has shifted into title gear as they continue to speed toward the championship. Chrysler has won all seven of its contests this season and has built a two-game cushion over its closest rivals, O'Grady's, Johnston and Double Eagle - all tied for second place with 5-2 records.

Although Ed's Hangar Lounge remains undefeated in the Blue Division, it still has to worry about Belleville Moose, which stares up at the leader from one perch below. Belleville has only one loss and is still considered very much alive in the title race.

And that is the same kind of picture that is reflected in the Sunday Division: Taylor A.C. has the lead and is undefeated in its six starts, but Northwest Airlines hasn't given up the title pursuit.

The dogfight continues between the two leaders with Taylor remaining a game ahead thanks to its 14-10 victory over Mobile Home Brokers last week, and Northwest's 6-1 triumph over pesky and capable Garner's Jewelry, a team that owns third-place thanks to a 5-2 record.

After the divisional championships are decided, teams with .500 and better averages will play in a post-season tournament to decide play off championships.

Class B and Class C champs may also qualify for the state parks and recreation tournaments which are played in various sections throughout the state in August.

Canton is home to world class softball

By TERRY JACOBY
ANP Staff Writer

The teams are from Romulus and Belleville; Van Buren and Canton; Inkster and Wayne.

They come from Westland and from parts east, west, north and south to play and to become spectators.

And the hub of the activity is in Canton Township which suddenly has become the center of attraction for amateur softball teams who meet on the scores of playing fields offered by the nationally recognized Canton Softball Center.

The lights can be seen from both Ypsilanti and Wayne. They are so bright that motorists driving down Michigan Avenue might think they are approaching a shopping center or even an airport.

But the only thing that flies out of the Canton Softball Center are white softballs.

The facility, which opened in May 1985, is located on a stretch of Michigan Avenue that doesn't have a lot to offer.

We have a reputation because tournaments are very important to us. A lot of places set a Tuesday deadline for the weekend tournaments, but we allow teams to register through Friday.

— Bernie Goodstein
General manager

A few bars and UAW buildings are there. A gas station, a motel and a couple of houses line the highway.

And at night, this stretch of Route 12 that runs from I-275 to Ypsilanti is dark.

Except for the ball fields.

"There were several reasons we picked this location," said Bernie Goodstein, the center general manager. "We got an attractive price on the property, but the main reason is that everyone knows Canton is an up and coming community. It has yet to come close to what it will be in five-10 years."

The center is owned by Aaron Jade, who also owns the Bloomfield Care Center.

Jade and Goodstein certainly picked a fitting name for their facility, because it really is a softball center. The 12 diamonds with computerized lighting and computerized scoreboards are just the beginning of what the complex offers.

An expansive clubhouse and service bar was built to give players a chance to relax before or after the game. The bar is where one can describe in total detail how he made that great shoestring catch.

Cleats restaurant gives players a place to eat, and spectators a place to watch some of

While Gorilla Engine of Wayne is busy preparing for the defense of the title, some of the top Class B and Class C men's softball teams in Michigan will be out to dethrone the two-time Leonard J. Anderson Memorial Invitational Tournament champion.

Wayne will be seeking an unprecedented third consecutive title when a field of 16 teams gather for the 12th annual tournament scheduled to be played 6 p.m. July 29 at Anderson Field.

"For local and area softball fans, this tournament is one of the best summer invitational the area can offer," said Larry Quartuccio, tournament manager.

ger. "It brings together the finest in amateur men's softball, played in the best of traditions."

Gorilla Engines, flying the banners of Wayne, will be putting its title on the block, and among the top contenders who will only be happy to snatch the crown away are National Trails Softball Club (Southfield, MI.) and Manitowoc Ice (Redford, MI.).

Quartuccio said he would not stick his neck out and pick a tournament favorite, "because, I am convinced this year's tournament is the most well-balanced one in the 12-year history of the invitational."

Others entered in the field include: Morris Inc., which is also the host team (Westland), Schewe's Collision (Flat Rock), Sottiles Auto Parts (Newport), Canton Sports (Canton), Western Waterproofing (Oak Park), The Roxy (Belleville), Wimsall/Al's Market (Wayne), Deckmasters (Westland), Paddy's Pub/Van Tech (Westland), Law Auto Sales (Redford), New World (Dearborn Heights), Malarkey's Pub (Westland), Station Lounge (Wayne).

The three-day tournament will conclude at 6 p.m. on Sunday (July 31) with the championship game.

The tournament will also decide which team will be awarded a berth in the United States Slow-Pitch Softball Association (USSSA) Divisional Championship for Class B ranked teams. The tournament will be staged in Rockford, Ill.

doubles; youth (14 & Under) singles; youth (17 & under) singles; youth singles.

There is a small entry fee, and those wishing further information may contact the Inkster Parks and Recreation Department at 728-7530.

In a separate item, Williams also reminded residents that the Inkster Swim Pool, located behind the Recreation Complex, continues to offer open swimming seven days a week from 1:15 to 3 p.m.; 3:15 to 5 p.m.; and from 5:30 to 6:45 p.m. throughout the month and until Aug. 28.

With temperatures well in the 90's, the pool has been one of popular spots of recreation and relief for heat-suffering residents.

There is a small admission fee.

Pool rentals for groups are also being offered at $50 per hour. The pool can accommodate 150 residents at a session, but organizers are urged to make registration as soon as possible.

Rentals include the use of the pool, deck area, and lifeguards.

'Open' tournament to attract 100 players

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Put the heat and record temperatures behind you, and grab your tennis racket. It's time to sign up for the 10th annual Inkster "Open" Tennis Tournament.

"Last year this tournament attracted more than 100 players from the city and neighboring communities," noted Ruth Williams, athletic supervisor. "And from the results of the early registration, it appears this year we should have an equal number of players."

The three-day tournament will be staged beginning Aug. 19 and conclude with the championship rounds scheduled for Aug. 21. The matches will be played at the Inkster Recreation Complex tennis courts, 2025 Middlebelt Road, (just north of Michigan Ave.).

There are several categories in which a tennis player can enter: 35 & Over singles and doubles; adult men's singles; adult women's singles; adult mixed doubles; adult men's/women's

It's too close to call in Inkster

After 15 games and heading into the stretch for the 1988 men's Class B softball season, it's still too close to call.

Although P.C.S. is leading the pack, at least four teams have a shot at the pacesetter as the season winds down. P.C.S. boasts the top billing thanks to an impressive 13-2 won-lost record, however, the first-place club is not out of reach of Barden Cable, which continues to apply the pressure.

Barden has a 12-3 won-lost ratio and can end up on top if P.C.S. withers in the heat of the afternoon. Also in the title race are Captain Nemo's/Splibs, New Robindale Lounge and the Thrill Seekers.

Captain Nemo has compiled a 11-4 won-lost record and is presently seated in third place, while New Robindale and the Thrill Seekers each have won 10 games, however, Robindale has lost only four as compared to the Thrill Seekers' five games.

In the meantime, recreation officials said today that they are still looking for teams that wish to compete in a men's "modified" fast-pitch softball tournament planned for Aug. 5, 6, and 7. There is a $100 registration fee.

If you have a team that qualifies to play in this tournament, coaches and managers are urged to contact Ruth Williams, athletic supervisor, at 728-7530.

Legion '9' ends frustration with title

It's frustrating for a coach when a team is not playing up to potential. The horses are there, but they aren't running as fast as they can and should.

Gerald Edmeyer, coach of the Wayne-Westland American Legion baseball team, has had a rough time watching his talented team throw away some close ball games. This team of all stars has not lived up to its billing, which made the defeats even harder to take.

But this past weekend, the boys showed no signs of break downs as they took home the first-place trophy in the Ypsilanti Invitational at Eastern Michigan University.

"I thought we executed very well this weekend," said Edmeyer, whose team won all five games during the round robin tournament. "They lived up to the caliber of play that the kids possess."

Gene Boyce, who plays at Garden City, set the tone for the weekend as he tossed a no-hitter in the opening game. Mike Heard (Wayne Memorial) and Clint Straub (John Glenn) both had two hits including a double and Joel Riggs (Plymouth-Canton) was 2-3 with a double and a triple as they defeated the Canton County MAC team, 5-0.

Ed Hanna and Derrick Humphries, both of Canton Township, combined on a two hitter as the Wayne team defeated Windsor II, 5-0. Heard continued to tear the ball, going 2-3 and Jerry Noel of Garden City connected for two triples.

The Windsor I team was also no match as Pat Pettit of John Glenn picked up the win during a 16-6 rout. Ken Nelson, Bryant Satterlee and Boyce all had two hits each.

The fourth game matched

Wayne with the host team, Ypsilanti. It was supposed to be close, but Straub made sure that it wasn't as he threw a no-hitter and struck out 13 batters. Heard (2-3), Satterlee (2-3) and Damian Hall (2-4) provided the offense which exploded in the final game of the weekend.

Straub, Chris Scheffer and Kelly O'Neill each had home runs as the Wayne team pounded Grand Rapids, a tournament favorite, 12-3. Kevin Bescoe, of Wayne Memorial, picked up the win.

The five wins at Ypsilanti was what the team needed

Bernie Goodstein (above) has had a great time handling out trophies to league and tournament champions. The general manager at the Canton Softball Center has helped build the complex into one of the most successful in the country. Goodstein is looking forward to hosting the Special Olympics State Championship on Aug. 6. More than 45 teams are expected to attend including a team from the Wayne-Westland area. The team, known as the Tigers, has been practicing at the center as team members (right) Michael Woodman of Westland, Jennifer Tamas of Canton Township, coach Charley Hallman and Chris Savage of Inkster head out to practice Thursday. Upset stuns title hopeful

Instead of closing the gap, title hopeful Poly Pro Auto Wash found itself losing ground to frontrunning Document Service in the Romulus Monday/Wednesday Softball Division.

And A. L. Williams, a team that previously had won five games in 18 outings, gets the credit and the thanks of Document Service.

Scoring three times in the opening inning, Williams yielded the lead to Poly Pro when the loser rallied for four runs in the top of the fourth. But Williams came back with three more runs in the bottom of that inning, then added two more in the fifth to claim a thrilling 8-7 victory over their rivals.

The winners got an outstanding performance from James Miller who drilled a homer and added two singles en route to five runs batted in.

the games. The facility also offers a concession stand, batting cages for both slow and fast pitch and a pro shop where players can buy bats, gloves and even cleats.

"The restaurant is outstanding and something we are proud of," said Goodstein. "We can seat 240 people and the food is very good. It is prepared fresh, and that's important."

And let us not forget the players, who come from all over southeastern Michigan to play the great American pastime.

The Canton Softball Center has more than 50 men's, women's and mixed leagues. There are leagues for churches, airlines, car dealerships, outstanding players and average players.

On the weekends, the action doesn't stop. In fact, it picks up.

Softball players from all over the country travel to Canton on the weekends to play in any one of their popular tournaments. From the early bird tournament on April 9 to the mixed competitive and recreational invitational on Oct. 9, these tournaments are big.

"Tournaments around Michigan are relatively down in numbers but here they are up," said Goodstein. "We have a reputation because tournaments are very important to us. A lot of places set a Tuesday deadline for the weekend tournaments, but we allow teams to register through Friday."

Goodstein said the tournaments at the Canton Center are up 30 percent from last year.

On June 17-18, the annual Belleville Strawberry tournament was hosted by the Canton center. The tournament attracted 42 teams in two divisions.

"The first six or seven years they had the tournament in Belleville," said Goodstein. "And they only had around six to 10 teams at the time. Since it has moved here, it has grown every year."

The number of participants and the number of tournaments has increased over the years. They feature local teams and some of the best softball teams in the country, including the famous Steel team which makes several stops during the year in Canton.

At the end of the season, the team that has compiled the most points during the tournaments is awarded the Canton Cup. The trophy is a 38-inch high silver cup. Team members receive a replica trophy, a corduroy jacket and a team photo.

A team is awarded 15 points for first place, 10 points for second place, seven points for third, five points for fourth and three points for fifth.

Some of the big tournaments that will take place this year include the Special Olympics State Championship Aug. 6 in which more than 45 teams are expected to participate, the Great Lakes divisional championship on Sept. 3 in which 170 teams are expected and the Strohs Beer Mixed National Invitational Oct. 8.

Goodstein believes the strong point of the facility is the ball fields themselves.

"We do have a lot to offer, but the conditions of the actual playing fields could be the most important attraction of all," he said. "I have heard from a lot of ball players that we have some of the finest fields in the country."

But when those fields are covered with the white stuff and the temperatures drop from the 80s to the 20s, the softball center is converted into the soccer center.

"The Canton Parks and Recreation Department suggested that idea to us and it has worked out well," said Goodstein. "We are very happy with the soccer dome."

"The first year was a little slow," Goodstein said. "In that year we were only 42-percent filled, but last year we were 85-percent filled."

The animals pictured on this page, and countless others, are waiting for you to take them home. A pet will give you love, trust, loyalty and affection, and all that is required in return is a little food, water and a warm place to sleep. That seems a small price to pay for the satisfaction of a wagging tail or a happy purr whenever you come home. When you go into your local animal shelter, open your heart and your home to one of these creatures, the rewards are well worth it!

MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

P.O. Box 30028

Lansing, Michigan 48909

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

TAKE NOTICE, That the Michigan Department of Natural Resources proposes to hold a formal public hearing at the City of Romulus City Hall, Council Chambers, 11111 Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan, at 7:00 p.m., Thursday, the 4th day of August 1988.

The purpose of this hearing is to secure the views of interested persons concerning the following application for permit:

Application for Permit 88-14-379W under the Goemaere-Anderson Wetland Protection Act, 1979 Public Act 203, by Total Distribution Services, Inc., 301 North Charles Street, Suite 500, Baltimore, Maryland 21201, to seek authorization to excavate 20,000 cubic yards of fill material from a 6.9 acre area that is no closer than 20 feet to the Carr Drain, excavated area is proposed as wetland mitigation site; place 20,000 cubic yards of material in 5.8 acres of wetland; place 81 feet of 36 inch GMP twin culvert extension at the Carr Drain crossing. The purpose of the project is to construct a railroad storage facility. Project location is T3S, R9E, Section 32, City of Romulus, Wayne County, Michigan.

The application may be reviewed in the Pontiac District Office, Land and Water Management Division, 24555 North Williams Lake Road, Pontiac, Michigan, during normal office hours.

The hearing will be held pursuant to Section 8(1) of the cited statute. The hearing will not be a court-type proceeding; witnesses will not be sworn, and there will be no cross-examination. Public Hearing are primarily informational and are held to encourage to expression of views and presentation of facts.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources will, upon written request, provide a copy of the Department's decision on this application.

PART TWO IN A THREE PART SERIES

Felony case traced through justice system

Most people are confused by the legal system. Fortunately much of this confusion stems from the fact that individuals have not had a need for the criminal justice system.

While there are plenty of people who have had no experience with the courts, the Michigan and the U.S. court systems are flooded with cases every day.

There are basically two separate court systems. There are the courts that handle civil suits involving wills, tenant disputes and other similar cases.

Crimes are classified as either a misdemeanor or a felony. The felony being the more serious.

Felony cases follow a standard procedure from beginning to the end as they go through the Michigan legal system. Each state has its own method for hearing such cases.

- Police are called to a vacant lot in a bad part of town. Neighbors report a gang fight there. When police arrive they find two men with serious knife wounds. When checked the police discover the men are dead. Immediately an investigation begins. Police talk with neighbors, evidence is gathered from the crime scene and relatives of the deceased are contacted.

- The investigation leads police to one suspect—me. Neighbors have identified me by appearance as being the man who murdered the two men.

- A warrant is issued and police turn up at my front door. The police read me my rights and tell me I am charged with two counts of murder in the stabbing death of two men. I say they've got the wrong man.

- If the evidence were not so substantial, I would be questioned at police headquarters and possibly be released at this point.

- The evidence, however, is fairly compelling so I am taken to the police station where mug shots and fingerprints are taken. The process is called booking. In a less serious crime, I might have been released at this point on temporary bond, but because of the seriousness of the crime I am lodged in a cell at the local jail.

Because I have little money, I ask that an attorney be appointed for me. I have a right to be formally charged within 24 hours of being arrested, so the following day I appear before a district court judge for my first court appearance.

- At my first court appearance, the judge will inform me that I am charged with two counts of murder in the first-degree in the deaths of the two men. The judge enters a "not guilty" plea for me automatically because of the severity of the crime and no bond is set. I am taken back to jail. If the crime had not been so severe I might have been released on bond or if the evidence was not so compelling the charges may have been dismissed.

- My first hearing must take place shortly after my first court appearance. Again I go before the district judge with my attorney. The prosecuting attorney then reveals evidence against me in the case. He calls to the stand neighbors who identify me as the person who stabbed the men in the lot. Again the judge could have dismissed the charges, but the evidence is too compelling so I am bound over to circuit court for trial on two counts of first-degree murder. If found guilty, I face a mandatory life sentence.

- I am taken to the Wayne County Jail and my attorney begins to build a case based on mistaken identity.

- My next appearance in court will be before a circuit court judge in downtown Detroit. It is called a hearing for information. Information given by police and private citizens serves as the basis for this hearing. The judge, after hearing the information, files official charges against me.

- Now, a new round of court proceedings will take place on the circuit court level. I am arraigned in circuit court and a second preliminary examination is set. At the second preliminary exam, my attorney will ask that charges be dismissed because of mistaken identity. The motion is denied and a trial date is set.

- It will be several months before my trial begins because of crowded court dockets. My attorney will use that time to prepare my case. I will sit in jail and wait.

- I am entitled to a trial by a jury of my peers so a jury is selected and my trial begins. I am not required to take the stand in my defense, but friends testify that I was with them at the time the crime was committed.

- After deliberation, the jury finds me guilty of two counts of first-degree murder. A special sentencing hearing is set even though the crime carries a mandatory life sentence.

- At the sentencing, the judge tells me what I already know. I will spend the rest of my life in jail. My attorney begins to file papers for an appeal. Meanwhile, I am sent to the Wayne County Jail.

This is a cut-and-dry case.

but by no means are all cases this simple. If the defendant's attorney had declared his client not fit to stand trial, then special tests and hearings would take place to determine competency.

Perhaps there was a slip along the way and the defendant was denied his rights. He may have been released based on that alone.

Civil actions effect many citizens

While felony criminal cases are more heavily publicized, it is with civil and misdemeanor cases that we most closely identify.

Virtually all citizens, at one time in their lives, will be confronted with the legal system through a civil lawsuit or a misdemeanor offense.

A misdemeanor could be something as simple as a traffic violation or a shoplifting charge.

A civil case is one in which a business, individual or other entity seeks damages from another entity. They usually involve a breach of contract or some other incident in which someone has been wronged or injured.

A person is informed of a civil action against him through a civil complaint. The complaint contains the identity of the person filing the suit, the person who the complaint is filed against, the location and identity of the court with which the complaint was filed, the serial number of the case, factual statement of the person's claims and a demand for relief.

In a civil action, an attorney usually asks for a large, even exaggerated amount of money for "damages."

There are several different types of damages which might be requested. General damages are presumed to have resulted from an injury. Special damages may be asked for in a case where the plaintiff has suffered a loss in income due to a breach of contract and a judge or jury must determine the amount. Punitive damages are assessed as punishment for the defendant. Nominal damages, often in the amount of $1, are awarded only to vindicate the plaintiff.

Once the plaintiff issues his complaint, the defendant must reply in a similar form. Failing to do so could result in a default on the plaintiff's behalf.

Civil actions are usually handled at the district level.

"These are the people's court type issues," said 18th District Court Judge Gail McKnight.

For the most part, this type of case will be a citizen's only contact with the legal system and therefore it can either create favorable or unfavorable views of the system in the minds of taxpayers.

"Most people that come here—we'll never see them again," McKnight said. "This one experience will shape their perceptions of the court."

In civil cases, a judgement might be reached even before a trial. An attorney may ask for a summary judgement based on the information submitted. The judge can deny the request if he thinks there are issues to be answered.

If the suit goes beyond this point, a discovery hearing is in order. The discovery involves putting all of the evidence and depositions on the table. Individual parties might be ordered by the court to submit various documents for this part of the process.

After all the briefs have been filed and motions disposed of, the civil action is said to be "at issue." A pretrial conference is staged with the judge and attorneys for both parties to eliminate those issues which have been resolved between them. This will leave only those contested facts to be discussed at the trial.

The judge may also use the pretrial hearing as a last-ditch effort to get the parties to settle before the trial.

Once the case finally reaches the trial stage, it has been boiled down to just a few questions of fact and determining whether the plaintiff really is telling the truth.

Both the plaintiff and the defendant have a right to demand a jury trial. The judge may also demand that a jury decide the case. If not, the decision will be made by the judge alone.

The trial then proceeds with the impaneling of the jury, the presentation of evidence, the testimony from both sides and motions from the defense.

The jury will then make its decision based on information presented at the trial. The losing party may make a motion asking for a new trial or may seek for reduction of damages.

Compared to the pretrial activities, the actual trial is usually over quickly.

Area courts are currently making more of an effort to educate the public on how such proceedings take place, McKnight said.

A citizens' commission established to study ways for improving Michigan courts has recommended that courts provide potential litigants with information on court proceedings thus making the court system more accessible and perhaps less intimidating.

Food

Cookies are a soothing treat

just desserts

sue willett

It may be hot, it may be muggy, but I still crave my all-time favorite dessert...cookies.

I know, I know...it's too hot to bake. Well, that may be true, but I crank the air-conditioning to about 70 degrees, heat up the oven and bake up a storm. Nothing can soothe the savage beast like a tray full of warm cookies. Cookies with ice cold milk, cookies with lemonade, cookies with more cookies, there just isn't a better treat, anytime of the year.

And while I confess that I love eating them, baking them really does wonders for the nervous system. After a hard day of dealing with the multitude of problems that any business has, there is something truly soothing and satisfying in the mixing up and baking of these treats.

One of my favorites, especially at this time of year, is a wonderful cheesecake cookie that is so cool and creamy it nearly defies description. Serve these squares cold on a hot day and listen to the raves. These really are worth the effort. Enjoy.

CHEESECAKE COOKIES

Crust:

1/2 cup chilled butter, cut in pieces
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 1/4 cup all-purpose flour
1/8 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup finely chopped walnuts

Filling:

12 ounces cream cheese, softened
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 egg
1 Tablespoon milk
1 Tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1 Tablespoon vanilla extract

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. To prepare crust combine butter, brown sugar, flour and salt in a food processor. Blend until mixture is crumbly. Add walnuts and process just to blend. Remove 1 1/4 cups of this mixture and refrigerate. Press the remainder into the bottom of a 9-inch by 9-inch ungreased baking pan. Bake for 12 to 15 minutes or until lightly browned and slightly crusty to the touch. While crust bakes, prepare filling.

Remove crust from oven when baked. Increase oven temperature to 350 degrees.

To prepare filling, blend ingredients until smooth in a food processor or beat with an electric mixer until smooth. Pour over hot baked crust. Sprinkle with reserved crumb mixture and bake 30 minutes. Cool, then chill.

When chilled, cut in 25 squares. Serve cold.

Fruit A cool summer treat

Fruits galore! Cherries, apricots, plums, nectarines, peaches, strawberries, grapes and more are in season for everyone to enjoy this summer.

The drought in Michigan is starting to affect some crops, said Al Lalama, owner of Al's Farm Market in Westland. If it doesn't change soon the small farmers who can't afford to irrigate will "really be hurt if it doesn't rain in the next week or so," he said.

Michigan strawberries were "scarce and poor," he said, and the Michigan cherry crop is being "sent all over the world." However, the outlook isn't totally bleak for consumers, according to Lalama.

"Most soft fruit is coming from California," he said, adding that Oregon and Washington also grow fruit, like peaches and cherries.

In the next two weeks berries will be coming into season along with the other fruits like Bartlett pears, and the "quality and taste is better," along with the fruit being cheaper, when people buy them in season, Lalama said.

Some of the more exotic fruits, like kiwi, come from out of the country. Kiwi is available year around from New Zealand, he said, and mangos are available from Mexico but are "hit and miss." Starfruit is becoming popular with some, he said, but although it is edible it usually is just cut up for decoration. Also, much of the winter soft fruit is shipped in from Chile in South America, he said.

The most popular item in this hot weather, everyone at the market agrees, is watermelon. Melons are in season now, and "nothing sells as well as ice cold watermelon," said John Sciberras, though any melons are especially good in the hot weather. Beside the honeydews and cantaloupes more exotic melons like Crenshaws will be coming into season, too, he said.

When picking out fruit, Lalama said, look for pieces "on the firm side, especially if you aren't going to use it right away."

Sciberras added, "look for bruises," because they will spread and keep eating away at the fruit, like a "chain reaction." Those dark brown spots he compared to "battery acid."

Also squeeze the fruit from the two ends, he said, and if it is too squishy it is overripe.

Fruits coming in the fall include the apples, which can be held in a controlled atmosphere for up to a year, and navel oranges and grapefruit.

"Valencia oranges are available now, limes are cheap, and lemons are 'like gold,'" Lalama said, which is a shame because many people like to make fresh lemonade. The quality is "hit or miss now," he said, but it will be better in the fall.

Bananas are always in season, he noted, and the prices are down now.

Many different kinds of watermelon are also being seen, he said, and while consumers are used to the long variety, the round ones are said to be the tastiest of the two types.

Pineapples are available now too, and Sciberras made the suggestion of growing your own.

"Cut off the top and soak it in water to root, and then bury it one inch down to produce a pineapple," he said. "They are very slow to grow and it will take 10 years before you see fruit on it."

"We don't carry anything which is not in season because it doesn't look good and the prices are too high," Lalama said.

Unfortunately, with the weather hurting the Michigan growing season, the crop is expected to be short and the fruit may not look good. Also, prices will be up because of shortages, while some may raise their prices to take advantage of the situation. Sciberras estimated prices rising one percent.

For those willing to take advantage of the fresh fruit now, Lalama, a long time produce man who has owned his market for 14 months, offers his fruit salad. Other tempting recipes follow.

Al's Fruit Salad

Watermelon
Cantaloupe
Honeydew melon
Grapes
Peaches
Strawberries
Kiwi fruit
Lime juice

Cut the fruit into pieces and mix together. Chill. Then squeeze the lime juice over the top of the mixture before serving.

Plum Nectarine Cocktail

2 or 3 fresh nectarines, sliced
1 cup fresh plums, diced
1/4 cup orange juice
1/4 cup lime juice
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
2 tablespoons sugar
Slivered almonds, toasted

Dice half the nectarine slices and combine them with the plums, orange and lime juices, rind and sugar, and chill mixture for two hours, turning twice.

Stand remaining nectarines upright around sides of four dessert bowls. Spoon the chilled mixture into the centers and sprinkle with almonds. It makes four servings.

Chocolate Peach Surprise

1 package (12 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
2 squares (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
3 tablespoons strong coffee
1 cup whipping cream, unwhipped
1 tablespoon brandy
1 package (10 oz.) frozen puff pastry shells
6 small fresh peaches, peeled
12 walnut halves

In the top of a double boiler heat the chocolates and coffee until melted. Pour in the cream and brandy slowly and stir until smooth. Refrigerate until ready to use.

Prepare the pastry as the package suggests. Halve the peaches, removing the pits, and place two nut halves in the center of the peach halves and reform the peaches. Place the peaches in the cooled pastry shells and pour some chocolate sauce over the peaches. Save the rest to pass around. Makes six servings.

Waldorf Salad

2 cups diced unpared apple
1 cup diced celery
1/3 cup coarsely chopped nuts
1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
Crisp greens

Combine apple, celery, nuts and mayonnaise and toss. Serve on the crisp greens, making four to six servings.

The living will – say no to life support

How can I be sure that during my final days my doctors will not try to keep me alive through artificial life support, which I strongly oppose for religious reasons? MOLLY WILCOX, WESTLAND

You should sign a living will as part of your estate plan. A living will is totally different from an ordinary will. In your living will, you will set forth your wishes regarding the continuation of extraordinary medical treatment for a terminal illness. This directive states that you made rational and voluntary decision to refuse extraordinary life support measures should you become terminally ill and then incapable of asserting such a demand. You living will operates only when you are rendered incompetent (e.g., comatose) as a result of the illness suffered.

The withdrawal of care con-

on the law

templated by a living will only includes those medical procedures instituted when the death process has already begun – those procedures designed to sustain a hopeless situation rather than offer any chance of recovery. This request for action by the treating physician does not include acts of active euthanasia. You may wish to couple your living will with a power of attorney in favor of your spouse to better enable he or she to make your medical decisions. Please consult an attorney expert in estate planning for more information.

BEAT SUMMER HEAT PROBLEMS BY KEEPING YOUR "COOL"

By James A. Webley, M.D.

Summer heat is something we all have to deal with. Generally, our bodies do a wonderful job of regulating and maintaining the right temperature and warning us when it's time to "cool off." But there are times when our internal thermostats need a little help — especially on hot, humid, windless days.

HEAT DISORDERS

When the air is warmer outside the body, the skin can no longer radiate. When the humidity is 100 percent, evaporation can no longer occur. So, the higher the temperature and the higher the humidity, the more difficult it is for the body to maintain a normal temperature. These conditions set the stage for heat disorders — cramps, heat exhaustion, and heat stroke.

Recognizing the symptoms of heat disorders, and following a few good tips, will go a long way in avoiding serious problems.

HIGH RISK

It's also important to know some other factors that put certain people at a higher risk when the weather is very hot — heavy work, exercise, direct exposure to sunlight, heavy clothing, obesity, persons with heart disease or fever, infants, and the elderly.

Muscle cramps are caused by drinking liquids without salt. Heat exhaustion symptoms include weakness, dizziness, nausea, often fever, and intense thirst. It's usually due to salt and water loss without replacement.

Heat stroke occurs when the sweating mechanism completely fails, and the body temperature reaches 104 degrees or more. The symptoms are confusion, sudden collapse, or seizure.

DRINK FLUIDS

To prevent heat stroke, avoid strenuous activities on hot, humid, windless days. Drink plenty of fluids such as water, iced tea, and eat salty foods — potato chips, peanuts, and french fries.

Both heat exhaustion and heat stroke require prompt medical attention.

Wearing light-colored, light-weight, loose clothing, taking cool showers or baths, staying out of the sun, and working or exercising in the early morning or late afternoon when the temperatures are not so high, are your best bets for keeping comfortable and avoiding any serious heat problems.

Windsor.

Your favorite things are here.

Whatever you like, you'll find it in Windsor. The place with Old World charm, friendly people and lots to see and do. And that includes entertainment.

There's live music including street jazz, rock & roll, bluegrass, bagpipe and symphony. As well as dance and theatre, at places like the Cleary Auditorium right on the riverfront downtown. That's where they present comedy like "Little Shop of Horrors", musicals like "Annie Get Your Gun" and dance programs by Les Grandes Ballets Canadiens, Theatre Ballet of Canada and Toronto Dance Theatre.

Of course Windsor is hard to equal for shopping and dining, too. And if you like a day in Windsor, you'll like two of them twice as much, with a stay in one of Windsor's fine hotels, like the Red Oak Inn. It's on Ouellette Avenue, right in the middle of Windsor's bustling downtown. With superb accommodations and an excellent restaurant, the Red Oak is a great place for your next weekend escape. It's so easy to do. Just say...

Food and music: Reiser's offers best of both

Uum, the nachos. Aah, the grilled dinners. Wow, the music is good.

Seems like the perfect three adjectives to describe Reiser's Keyboard Lounge, on Wayne Road, in Westland.

But before going any further, I have to admit it - I'm prejudiced. At least I have a biased stereotype that bars should not try to be in the restaurant business and restaurants should not mimic night clubs.

Reiser's has opened my eyes a bit and disputed my own theory.

My restaurant-critic sidekick/wife, Debbie, and I visited Reiser's on a Friday night. We were impressed with the outer appearance of the business before even stepping inside - nice sign, clean parking lot and classy aesthetic appearance of the building.

Once inside, we were greeted by Judy and Bill Reiser, the four-month owners of the business, hardworking promoters, music enthusiasts and great human beings. They were charming upon greeting us, a charm that continued from the moment we sat down until we walked out the door.

Our visit to Reiser's began early in the evening, so fighting crowds was not a problem. Debbie and I chose a table near the stage, where we would receive a firsthand glimpse of the highly touted entertainment that was set to begin at 9:30.

But, first, the dinner details and a brief explanation of the new business awaited us.

Judy and Bill are Westland residents who have been in the professional music business for 15 years. Bill is one-half of the dynamic duo making up Nic Nac, the versatile keyboard-vocals-guitar act offered at the lounge. Nic Nac has been together for three years, under the direction of Bill and the assistance of guitarist-vocalist Joe Town.

Bill and Nic Nac already have an established name in the area, having made appearances at several local pubs and eateries during the last few years. The group specializes in all music - this is no lie - and quality sounds from Top 40s, '60s, country-western to easy listening are all possible.

Bill might also be known by some former students as a math teacher at both Wayne Memorial and John Glenn high schools. He left his teaching position in 1976 to go "full time" into the music business. Actually, he has been a practicing professional musician since 1972.

But working for others was "old hat" for Bill. He needed a new challenge. Thus, Reiser's Keyboard Lounge was born.

"I just needed a new challenge in life," Bill said. "You work for all those people, putting money in their pockets. Now, it's time to put something in mine."

And with the background of the business in my pocket, it was time to put some food in the stomach.

Our waitress for the evening, Rochelle Bernier, highly recommended the nacho supreme ($4.50) as an appetizer. Debbie and I were both glad she did.

These nachos were, perhaps, the best I have yet tasted. Each nacho receives special treatment, Bill told us, with a blend of cheeses, ground beef, green peppers, onions, olives and tomatoes. I would return just for the nachos.

Next came the main course. The menu at Reiser's is vast for a lounge. Nine different soups and appetizers are available, as are eight sandwiches (each named after a star in the music business - The Billy Joel, the Bach and the Jerry Lee Lewis), three salads, 13 dinner entrees, pizza and dessert. And, of course, drinks of all sorts are a forte of the establishment.

One popular attraction of Reiser's, according to Judy, is the availability of bottled beer. Ten different beer brands in bottles are available, as are a selection of mixed drinks.

Debbie opted for an ice cream drink, the strawberry shortcake, and I chose a sloe gin fizz. Both were good.

For dinner, Debbie - at Bill's advice - chose the Reiser Burger ($2.25), 1/2 pound of ground round with cheese. She also sampled the very tasty curly french fries.

I chose the "Reiser's Famous New York Strip" ($9.95), 12 ounces of steak cooked on the grill. I rated it highly.

Now, the entertainment was about to begin.

When Bill told me of the many types of music Nic Nac could perform, I was skeptical. I was sure that the Bruce Springsteen songs following on the heels of Willie Nelson would somehow not mix. I was wrong.

Nic Nac is truly a dynamic duo. Just ask the crowds of people gathering at the lounge, requesting songs of all sorts and having the time of their lives.

I was impressed. These entertainers were hot, and Bill and Judy were both in their glory, considering the success story they were living.

But Reiser's is much more than a hot night spot. The lounge is also open afternoons for business lunches and early evenings for dinners. Entertainment begins at 9:30.

The service at the restaurant is superb, and the atmosphere is one for fun and excitement. And the food? Give my compliments to Chef Reynolds Trudell and Jeff Reiser, the owners' son, who assists in the cooking duties. Daughter, Lisa, works there, too.

In short, if you're looking for a night full of good music, good food and a good time, head to Reiser's. Get there early, however. Once this night spot catches on, fighting the crowds for a spot near the stage will be a problem.

I recommend Reiser's to all.

Bill Reiser, above, owner and also one-half of the dynamic duo making up Nic Nac, the keyboard-vocals-guitar act offered at Reiser's Keyboard Lounge.

Fair offers fun at bargain prices

By THOMAS M. VARCIE
ANP Staff Writer

People attending the Wayne County Fair this year can have the time of their life. And all it costs is $2.

Laughter, cheering, thrills and chills will be in the air Wednesday, July 20 through Sunday, July 24, at the Wayne County Fairgrounds, in Belleville. This marks the 42nd year at the Belleville site.

Enough activities to fill a year will be offered at the fairgrounds during the five-day event. People from all walks of life will be able to enjoy the wide range of events and activities at the event this year, according to Pat Bush, entertainment chairperson of the Wayne County Fair Association.

To keep the beat going at the fair, Bush said, several musical guest are expected to entertain listeners.

"On Wednesday, we'll have the 'Battle of the Bands' at 6 p.m. In this, several bands in the area will compete for prizes," Bush said. "Also each night around 10 p.m., a D.J. will feature music. Tracey Lynne and the Mountain Express will play for two shows also."

Tracey Lynne and the Mountain Express is a country-western band which has appeared on several local country radio stations, she said.

After the music has ended, fairgoers can wander through the endless concession displays featuring the favorite festival foods.

Probably the most popular event of the fair, however, are the tractor and truck pulls, according to Mitch Chmielewski, part-organizer of the pulls. All of the truck and tractor pulls will be staged on the fairground track.

But, of all the truck events, no other truck feature can top that of the main event - the Heartbeat Monster Truck.

This 1,000 horsepower giant will be on display for viewing purposes Saturday, during the truck pulls. At 5:30 p.m., on the fairgrounds track, the Monster Truck Car Crushing Show will begin.

"After the four-wheel drive show, the monster truck will come out and smash cars by running over top of them. That's about what everybody waits for. It's really a sight to see."

the pineapples. Makes six servings.

Whipped Marshmallow Fruit Salad

- 1 large can fruit cocktail
- 1 small can mandarin oranges
- 10 maraschino cherries, halved
- 2 cups miniature marshmallows
- 1 large bowl whipping cream
- 1 large apple, diced
- 2 bananas, sliced
- 1 bottle red food coloring
- strawberries to garnish

Put fruit cocktail, mandarin oranges, marshmallows, cherries, apple pieces, and banana pieces in a large bowl and mix together. Use red food coloring (maraschino cherry juice could be used but will not work as well) to color whipping cream pink - add a few drops at a time, stirring, to avoid putting in too much. Then mix whipping cream with fruit pieces, place in large pan or bowl and garnish with strawberries. Chill until serving.

Fruit Shish Kabob

- 1/2 cantaloupe
- 1/2 honeydew melon
- 3 pounds watermelon
- 2 or 3 oranges
- 1/2 cup orange juice

Scoop balls from melons or cut into one inch cubes. Place three piece on each of 12 bamboo skewers and insert skewers in oranges on a serving plate sticking out. Use the orange juice for dipping the balls. Makes four servings.

Aloha Pineapple Punch

- 6 pineapples
- 3 bottles (25 oz.) sparkling catawba grape juice, chilled
- 6 large straws

Cut off the tops of the pineapples and save. Cut out the fruit from the shell of the pineapple, leaving about 3/4 inches for the wall. Punch a hole in the top large enough for the straw and replace the tops. Wrap each pineapple in aluminum foil and refrigerate until serving time. Just before serving, divide the juice between VARIATIONS: Pear Waldorf - substitute 1 cup diced unpared pears for the 1 cup of apple. Cranberry Waldorf - spoon each serving of salad onto one slice chilled cranberry sauce.

Fresh Fruit Bowl

- 3 medium peaches
- 2 cups sliced strawberries
- 2 cups blueberries
- 2 cups melon balls
- 3 medium bananas
- 1 bottle (25 ounce) pink sparkling catawba grape juice, chilled

Peel peaches and slice them into a bowl, topping the slices with strawberries, blueberries and melon balls. Cover tightly and chill.

Just before serving, peel bananas and slice into fruit mixture, and pour grape juice over the top. Makes eight to 10 servings.
